

NATURAL HISTORY MUSEUM OF UTAH

Rio Tinto Center | The University of Utah

Position: Museum Education Intern-Taking Learning Outdoors

Organization: Natural History Museum of Utah

Department: School Programs

Term: Fall 2015 (September - December 2015; flexible start date)

Start Date: Late September 2015

Time Requirements: 5 hours/week for 12 weeks

Salary: $9.50/hour

Disciplines Requested: Science/Outdoor Rec/Education/Environmental Studies/
Social Studies

Summary of Position:

The Museum Education Intern for Taking Learning Outdoors will work closely with the department's education specialists to complete a variety of projects centered on informal science education for K-12 students and teachers.

Essential Duties and Responsibilities:

- Create new programming centered on outdoor learning and education
- Develop materials and/or activities for teacher workshops
- Develop materials and/or activities for teachers to use and administer to their students in their classroom
- Work alongside Museum education staff to refine existing programs, lessons, and curricula
- Assist in other assigned projects and activities to support School Programs staff as needed

Basic Qualifications and Skills:

- University of Utah undergraduate student
- Interest in education and science
- Ability to work independently on assigned projects
- Ability to work collaboratively with Museum staff, school teachers, and K-12 students
- Must pass a criminal background check
- Proficient in Microsoft Office programs; familiarity with Adobe Photoshop and/or Illustrator a plus!

Please submit your resume along with a brief cover letter stating how your interests and experience align with this position to: ntoth@nhmu.utah.edu

Be sure to include the name of the internship you're applying for in your cover letter.*

Application deadline is Friday, September 4, 2015.

Questions? Contact Natalie Toth: ntoth@nhmu.utah.edu / 801.587.3536